

TRUMAN PROCLAIMS 12-POINT FOREIGN POLICY

The World Today . . .

War Not Inevitable

By DEWITT MacKENZIE,
AP Foreign Affairs Writer
WE SHALL HAVE A FAIR IDEA a year from now whether we are headed for peace or for another war—but let none doubt that the intervening months are filled with perils.

Blunt notice of the dangers was given yesterday in Leeds, Scotland, by Britain's distinguished former foreign minister, Anthony Eden. He declared that the terrible warning of the atomic bomb "has failed to produce any healthy consequences," and continued:

"The nations are not joined closely together. Unhappily, the tendency is rather in the reverse direction. The world unquestionably is in very grave danger. We need cool, calm and understanding leadership."

Simultaneously another noted figure, Bishop G. Bromley Oxnam of New York, president of the Federal Council of the Churches of Christ in America, told an Ohio teachers' convention in Cleveland that if the big nations fall out, the security of all nations is in jeopardy, and he added:

"Peace is not being negotiated with Germany and Japan. They have been defeated, and await the kind of peace that the victors establish. Peace is being negotiated with Great Britain and with Russia. "Only can be maintained without recourse to appeasement. Appeasement does not contribute to peace, but adjustments in practical affairs mean compromise. The alternative to some compromise solution in Europe is two great blocs facing each other in suspicion, each madly arming with a third World war in the shadows."

Suspensions are dragon's teeth. If they're cultivated they will of a certainty produce a crop of fighting men, fully armed and eager for battle. This doesn't mean that we are dealing with suspicious but it does mean that we should treat them rationally.

Certainly there are plenty of grounds for uncomfortable thoughts which are more than suspicions. For example, we see Europe being divided up into spheres of influence. We see Russia reaching out to gain greater domination than Hitler ever held. Those aren't suggestions.

GIRL SCOUT WEEK OBSERVANCE OPENS

National Girl Scout week, Oct. 28 to Nov. 3, will be observed by Salem Girl Scouts Sunday when the troops attend church in their respective churches.

This week, which celebrates the birthday anniversary of the late Juliette Low, founder of the movement, places special emphasis on seven service days, which are Girl Scout Sunday, Homemaking day, Social and Safety day, International Friendship day, Arts and Crafts day, Out-of-Doors day and Citizenship day.

The theme for the coming year is "Girl Scouting—Citizenship in Action Around the World."

Through the Plan of Work questionnaire sent to all councils, every member of the organization, from the littlest Brownie to the veteran leader, is given an opportunity to voice an opinion as to what kind of activities will help them become more active citizens. Girl Scouting has become the largest organization in the world.

Held In Hatchet Slaying

RATION BOARD OFFICE CLOSES

Consolidated Office At E. Liverpool To Serve Salem Citizens

Its work ended, the Salem ration board closed its office in the Nyktas building yesterday in compliance with an OPA decision to operate a consolidated Columbiana county war price and ration board office at East Liverpool.

Citizens of Salem can now receive application blanks for shoes, tires, War Book No. 4, etc., by writing to the Columbiana County War Price and Rationing Board, No. 15-4, city hall, East Liverpool, it was announced by Lamar K. Donahay, district board supervisor.

Arrangements have also been made for the distribution of blanks at the Columbiana County Motor club, E. State st.

Returning service men and women can secure application blanks at the Memorial building from either Joe Kelley or R. R. Woods, in the Selective Service board office.

To save mailing of servicemen's credentials to the East Liverpool board, Kelley and Woods have been authorized to check furlough papers, discharges, etc., and note the legality of the documents on the application at the time of distribution.

"OPA is urging the public in Salem to continue checking ceiling prices and making reports of violations to the board in East Liverpool," Donahay pointed out.

"Mail any reports of violations to the chief clerk, county price control board, at the Liverpool address," he said.

A. P. Morris, over-all chairman of the Salem board activity, has written all board members here, thanking them for their untiring, volunteer efforts in carrying out the war-necessitated program.

He also expressed his appreciation to the Salem area people for their patient re-adjustment to living under war-time regulations.

TAX COLLECTION RULE OF PROBATE COURT REVERSED

Columbiana county was the winner by several thousand dollars as the result of action taken in the common pleas court yesterday when Judge Joel H. Sharp sustained the demurrer filed by Prosecutor Frank W. Springer and held that the probate court could not order a cancellation of taxes unpaid as the result of an administrator's sale.

The "test case" arose in February of 1944 when Mary Rahter, Wells-ville, former deputy in the recorder's office at Lisbon, sought to enjoin the county treasurer and auditor from collecting delinquent taxes levied upon a property that she had bought at an administrator's sale.

Former Judge H. W. Hammond of Columbiana had ordered all unpaid taxes cancelled and when the auditor and treasurer continued to list delinquent taxes the action was brought.

In the case decided yesterday taxes upon the property in question were listed in the amount of $2,682.54. Proceeds from the administrator's sale had left but $1,087.12 to be applied against the sum. Yesterday the court in effect ordered that the purchaser at the judicial sale must pay the balance of the taxes, amounting to $1,595.42.

The plaintiff was represented by at least four attorneys and the suit was the forerunner of a series of suits that would have been filed to enjoin the county from collecting delinquent taxes against properties bought at probate judicial sales wherein balances had been ordered cancelled.

STEEL PLANT WORKERS EYE STRIKE VOTES

CIO Employees To Take Action Similar To Automotive Group

(By Associated Press)
The nation's CIO steel workers, following the procedure of CIO automotive employees as part of their campaign to get increased wages, plan strike votes.

Headed by Philip Murray, president of the CIO as well as head of the Steel Workers union, officials today prepared the strike vote petitions, which they expected to have filled with the proper federal agencies by Monday.

The strike ballots would involve more than 600,000 employees in 766 steel, aluminum and iron ore plants and were regarded as the union's answer to rejection by major steel companies of its demands for a $2 a day wage boost.

Final tabulations in the second strike ballot of the automobile industry's "big three" showed workers in Chrysler Corp. plants favored a work stoppage. In a similar poll employees of General Motors also voted in favor of a strike.

Regarded As Mandate
The results were regarded by CIO United Automobile Workers leaders as a "mandate" to press demands for a 30 per cent wage hike for the industry's half million workers. Ford Motor Co. workers will ballot on the same issue Nov. 7.

As the number of workers idle across the country because of labor disputes increased 16,000 in the last 24 hours to a total of 239,000 the Federal Conciliation Service in Washington said that in the week ended Oct. 24 the number of strikes settled exceeded the number of new ones. The agency concluded "near normal" conditions might prevail by mid-November.

Murray announced the strike ballot plan after a meeting in Pittsburgh of the union's wage policy committee authorizing "whatever action deemed necessary" to secure the wage increase. He cautioned union members against premature strike action.

Necessary, Is Claim

He asserted the wage demands were "necessary to sustain purchasing power and prevent another depression." Spokesmen for the U. S. Steel said the demands were rejected because of the "existing ceiling prices for steel products, together with the government's wage stabilization program."

In Detroit, Walter P. Reuther, CIO-UAW vice president, said he was still hopeful of settling the wage issue with General Motors but he asserted the union would stand firm on its demand unless General Motors proved with figures its claim of inability to meet the demand. The wage conferences have been adjourned.

In the vote by 22,304 of more than 98,000 eligible Chrysler employees, 19,870 favored a strike, 2,359 opposed and 75 votes were voided. General Motors results showed 70,853 favoring a stoppage to 12,438 against. About 200,000 employees did not vote.

Wade Loop Elected Head of Polo Club

Wade Loop was elected president of the Salem Saddle and Polo club at its annual dinner meeting last evening at the Lape hotel.

Loop, recently discharged from the army after a long service overseas, headed the club before entering the service. He succeeds Ralph Phillips, president during the last year.

Other officers are: Vice president, Wilford Smith; secretary, Raymond Moff; treasurer, Walter Fernengel; Earl Grate, Brooke Votaw and Ralph Hawley were elected members of the executive committee, the other members being the club officers.

The meeting also honored three members who have been in the service: Loop and Robert Clunan, who were discharged recently, and Sergt. John Herman, home on furlough from his camp in Utah.

Presidential Review Marks Spectacular Navy Day Rites

(By Associated Press)
NEW YORK, Oct. 27.—President Harry S. Truman, radiating his famed Missouri grin, came to New York today to lead the city and nation in a day-long tribute to the world's greatest fighting fleet—the United States Navy.

Making his first visit to the east since becoming chief executive, Mr. Truman got off his train at Pennsylvania station at 10:20 a. m. (EST), a little more than three hours after his arrival.

A brilliant autumn sun shone as the President—at the head of a victory motor caravan—headed for the New York Navy yard in Brooklyn to commission the giant Super-carrier Franklin D. Roosevelt.

Other highlights of the President's Navy day program include: A parade along lower Broadway, signing of the city's official register at City hall, a speech on foreign policy in Central park, luncheon aboard the Battleship Missouri, and a review of 47 battle-scarred warships arrayed along a seven-mile stretch in the Hudson river.

About 500 persons cheered the President as he left the train accompanied by Mayor F. H. La Guardia and Grover A. Whalen, chairman of the mayor's reception committee.

Warships Lined In Array
Guns a-bristling and battle banners flying, the vessels stretched from the shadows of mid-Manhattan skyscrapers, up the full length of Riverside drive, and to Spuyten Duvel to receive the tribute of the nation they helped bring to victory.

After commissioning the 45,000-ton Super-carrier Franklin D. Roosevelt, the President planned to tour 25 miles of city streets and review a parade by 2,000 marching Navy men and women.

At Central park, he was scheduled to make a speech described by his press secretary as the most important he ever made. It was to be his first major address on foreign policy.

Aboard the Battleship Missouri, the President had a luncheon date with Vice-Admiral Jonas H. Ingram, commander of the Atlantic fleet.

Millions were lining New York's Riverside drive and New Jersey's Palisades to see the commander-in-chief, aboard the battle-hardened Destroyer Renshaw, inspect the 47-ship armada in the Hudson from 3:30 p. m. (EST) to 5:30.

To an almost continual thunder of 21-gun salutes and accompanied by the roar of 1,200 Navy planes overhead, the President was to pay his personal tribute to the mighty ships.

The President asserted the United States would strive to bring that day closer when law rather than force will be the arbiter of international relations. "Until then, he urged the nation make sure 'no possible aggressor is going to be tempted by any weakness on the part of the United States.'"

Defends U.S. Armed Might For Peace Rule

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Oct. 27.—President Truman proclaimed to the world today a 12-point foreign policy based on the use of military power to preserve peace while planning to outlaw the atomic bomb.

"Loss of faith in the effectiveness of international organization is the great threat to peace," he said. "In an atomic age it would be nothing short of disastrous."

Until world cooperation reaches the state where atomic methods of destruction can be "definitely and effectively outlawed forever," the United States will hold the weapon as a "sacred trust."

He expressed willingness to exchange fundamental scientific information in talks with other nations which will begin soon, but reaffirmed: "These discussions will not be concerned with the processes of manufacturing the atomic bomb or any other instruments of war."

The chief executive's first overall statement of foreign policy since he took office last April was made at a Navy day rally in Central park.

It came in the midst of intense diplomatic efforts to bring about better relations with Russia and a few hours after disclosure that Generalissimo Stalin had received an undisclosed message from Mr. Truman through Ambassador W. Averell Harriman.

Mr. Truman said differences which exist among the Allies "are not hopeless or irreconcilable."

With a possible view to conditions in the Balkans, however, he stated emphatically the United States would "refuse to recognize any government imposed upon the nation by the force of any foreign power."

He set forth four purposes for which this nation must remain powerfully armed: To enforce the peace on defeated enemies, to support the United Nations, to defend the western hemisphere and to defend the United States.

The atomic bomb makes the solution of international problems "more urgent than we could have dreamed six months ago," Mr. Truman said, but it "does not alter the basic foreign policy of the United States."

"That policy he described as one of 'friendly partnership with all peaceful nations and of full support for the United Nations organization.' He defined it in these 12 principles:

1. No territorial expansion, no plans for aggression, no objective "which need clash with the peace."

Calls For Freedom of Seas For All Nations

Freedom of the seas for all nations and "equal rights to the navigation of boundary rivers and waterways and of rivers and waterways which pass through more than one country."

8. Access to nations "on equal terms to the trade and the raw materials of the world."

9. The right of "the sovereign states of the western hemisphere, without interference from outside the western hemisphere" to "work together as good neighbors in the solution of their common problems."

10. Economic collaboration among all nations for improved living conditions and "establishment of freedom from fear and freedom from want."

11. Freedom of expression and freedom of religion "throughout the peace-loving areas of the world."

12. Preservation of peace through the United Nations "composed of all the peace-loving nations of the world who are willing jointly to use force if necessary to insure peace."

"That is the foreign policy which guides the United States now," Mr. Truman said. "That is the foreign policy with which it confidently faces the future."

Mr. Truman said the nation's military power is intended only to preserve peace and make American freedom secure.

"We have assured the world time and again," he said, "and I repeat it now—that we do not seek for ourselves one inch of territory in any place in the world. Outside of the right to establish necessary bases for our own protection, we look for nothing which belongs to any other power."

Chimney Fire At Hotel Is Checked by Firemen

Firemen were called to the rear of the Metzger hotel at 2:55 p. m. yesterday to extinguish a small blaze which started in a kitchen chimney, believed to have been filled with grease.

No damage resulted, Fire Chief Vincent Malloy said.

The city police cruiser, however, was damaged slightly as an indirect result of the fire.

While rushing back to city hall to re-adjust the traffic lights, stopped automatically by the fire signal, the cruiser, driven by Patrolman James Hassey, was struck by another car driven by a Youngstown man on E. State st. Two fenders were damaged.

Political vs. Military Security

It must be obvious to anyone giving the matter a second thought that the nation's decision on universal military training and all other issues concerning national security will suffer from politics.

The same kind of politicians who made the fateful decisions on our security before the war began must make the same fateful decision now that the war is over. It is pleasant to forget—or was pleasant to forget while war continued—that politicians came within a hair's breadth of scuttling the selective service act on the eve of war.

This is not to suggest that Congress is not the proper place for the decision to be made; Congress must make the decision. But it can be made properly by Congress only if a majority of the members of Congress forego their preoccupation with politics and give at least half their attention to military security.

If the War department and the Navy department are going to be held responsible for what happens when war breaks out, their opinions on what must be provided to enable them to do their jobs are worth as much as the opinions of men afraid of repercussions at the polls if they go contrary to public opinion.

Naturally, public feeling at this time is overwhelmingly for liquidating World War II and getting all the boys home for Christmas, or quicker if possible. That is why some proponents of military preparedness wanted to force Congress to make the decision on military training before the end of the war; they saw the reaction coming.

But if the apparent trend of public opinion were to prevail in all instances, Congress could disband. Its job could be done better by a continuous public opinion poll. Congressmen are charged with responsibility for the "common defense of the United States". The nation's military security is in their exclusive control.

It is possible that some of them might have a narrow squeak when they run for re-election if they decide to take the experts' word for it that America's military security calls for universal military training. Some of them might even be defeated on that issue. On the other hand, there might be members of Congress who would rise in stature if they put the vagaries of public opinion at the end of World War II aside and voted, as they lacked the courage to do after World War I, for the most obvious measure of preparedness to prevent World War III if possible, and if not, to win it with minimum loss of life and treasure.

Atomic Tests

Navy officials are reliably reported to be planning an atomic bomb test in deep water to learn as much as possible about the effect of so great an explosion on fleet units. It is probable that if such a test can be arranged the public will learn of the outcome.

But it will start a wave of interest in the other uses of atomic power. The United States has wiped out a pair of Japanese cities and is interested in the possibilities of massive underwater explosions. It also is interested in doing something constructive with its share of the knowledge about atomic power. For the sake of argument, it might even be submitted by a skeptic that the greater part of its potential influence lies in its power to do good, though that possibility has been pretty well concealed so far by interest in its lethal effects.

It threatens to be kept concealed, moreover, if this and other governments are permitted to pursue their apparent intention of establishing an atomic energy monopoly with all decisions controlled by militarists.

More than the possibilities of atomic fission are being tested. The ultimate test may be of man's ability to withstand his own moral fission.

Let's Finish the Job

The last of the War Loan drives—the Victory Loan—will be held throughout the nation, Oct. 29 to Dec. 8. In contrast to seven preceding drives, it carries a unique appeal. The world is at peace and the specific urgencies of the solicitation deal with the maintenance and enhancement of that peace. The war loans were essential to our successes in the field, and this single, peacetime loan is equally vital if we are to enjoy the fruition of our victory.

In previous campaigns we have been told that dollars meant guns, tanks, planes and ships. Had security permitted we might have learned that our money also was being invested in the development and perfection of an atomic bomb. These tangible, highly destructive products required huge sums of money and yet it was natural for the public to perceive their worth.

The nation realized that our forces could not pulverize industrial cities from the air, carry on tremendous military operations on land and participate in unprecedented amphibious and logistic operations at sea without the citizenry footing the bill. The response indicates how fully the public appreciated these facts. The quota for all seven drives was approximately $95 billion; total sales exceeded $135 billion. No drive failed; all were oversubscribed.

Our purchase of Victory Bonds in this final campaign represents, in every sense, an investment in the peace. The goal of $11 billion which the Treasury has set, $3 billion less than the Seventh War Loan quota, will provide funds for veteran rehabilitation and care of the wounded, for the accelerated demobilization of our Army and Navy, for troop redeployment to this country, for the maintenance of armies of occupation and for the conversion to a peacetime economy. These things do not come cheaply. Yet we cannot afford to stop after financing the forces of destruction and in doing overlook the constructive elements of victory. More than 90 million Americans own war bonds, and it seems almost superfluous to reiterate the myriad advantages gained by their purchase. The public knows there is no better investment. It appreciates that buying Victory Bonds today provides security for the future. And since present figures indicate that this year there will be about $40 billion more income than there will be goods and services to spend it on—which is called the inflationary gap—the restraints on inflation resulting from investment in Victory Bonds are obvious.

The nation is in a period of great transition from war to peace. By unity and sacrifice we have won the most devastating conflict in world history. It is unthinkable that we will compromise or dilute our victory now by failing to sacrifice for peace.

The Stars Say

For Sunday, October 28.

SUNDAY'S horoscope is a fairly active one, with things moving along in routine grooves with some unforeseen developments, perhaps with sudden change, trips or domestic, social, and romantic grooves moving into pleasant and prosperous lines, with parties, ceremonies and diverse joys and happy friendships of importance. Do not fear to take advantage of these for future progress.

Those whose birthday it is may look for a fairly progressive year, with valuable friendships to launch with security, major projects for the future. A sign of financial expansion looms, with enhanced prestige and popularity. Aim for cherished objectives, with assurance of substantial support from high places. There should be valuable entertainment and parties, with romantic realizations.

A child born on this day should have excellent creative talents which will take it far on the road to success and happiness.

For Monday, October 29.

MONDAY'S astrological forecast is a fairly fortunate one, with all affairs moving in routine channels, with modest progress. There may be trivial setbacks or annoyances and be careful in making contracts or agreements, as these are beset with danger or fraud, misrepresentation or misconstruction. Industry and practical methods should carry on successfully.

Those whose birthday it is may look for returns for hard work and practical constructive efforts. These may offset trifling delays or annoyances. Give close attention to the signing of all papers, agreements or correspondence, as such are subject to fraud.

A child born on this day should be an able and constructive worker, serious and loyal, attaining due rewards for his efforts.

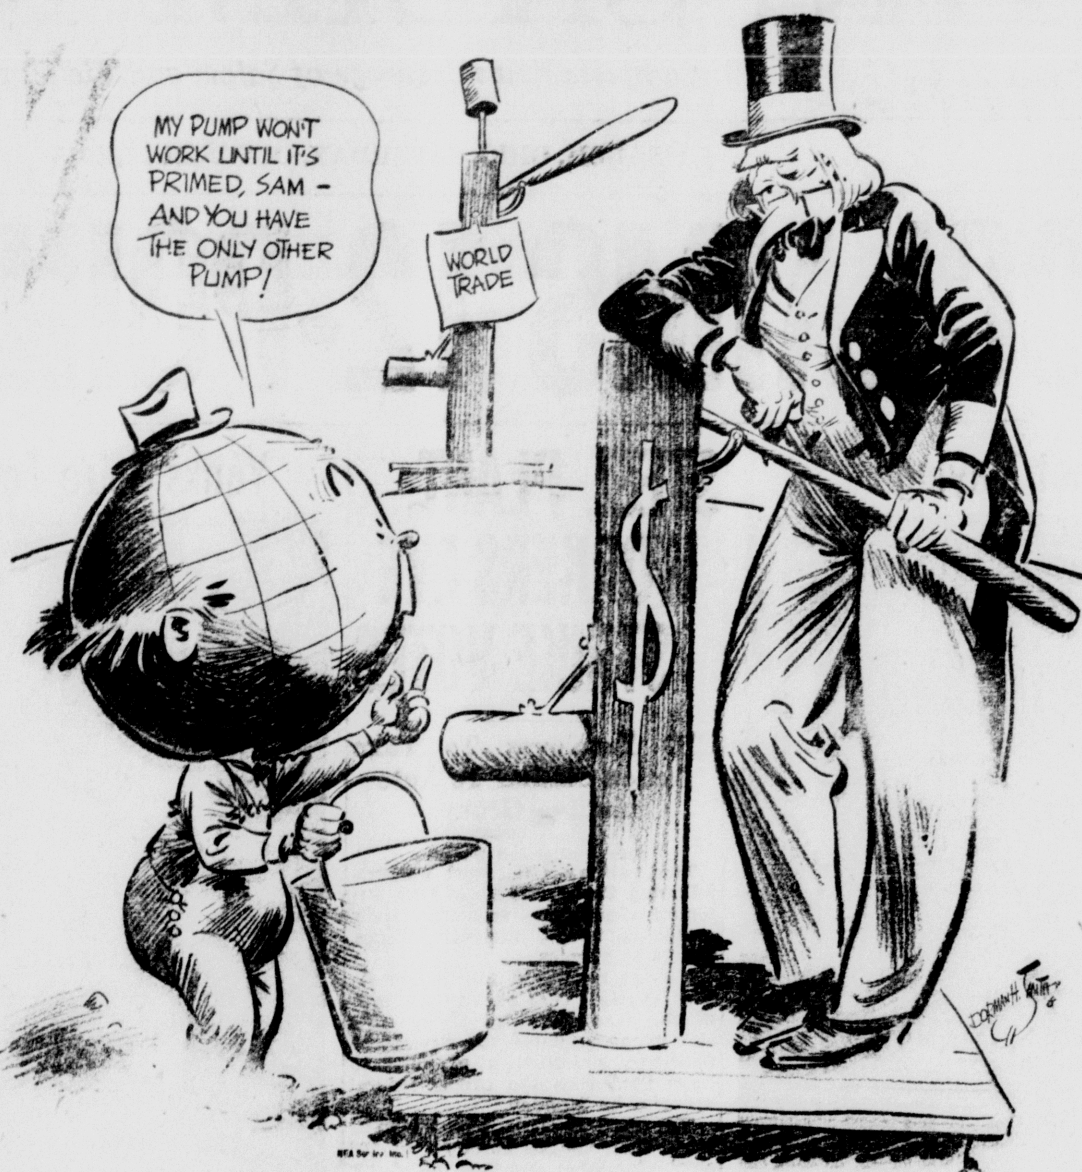

They Deserve 'Em

The Allies are thinking of letting Jap civilians establish a commercial radio network to compete with the government-owned Radio Tokyo.

Since we are still in favor of a hard peace, we hope that General MacArthur will require this new network to include a lot of singing commercials.

A Chicago tattoo artist reported the theft of 1,500 tattooing needles. If not in the same business, the present owner likely is stuck with them.

Restoration of free speech in Japan came at an appropriate time. General MacArthur is giving them plenty to talk about.

GUARDING YOUR HEALTH

Unusual Type of Low Blood Pressure

BY HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M. D.

THERE is a condition called postural hypotension which means low blood pressure that occurs only when the patient is standing. Other symptoms are weakness, dizziness, and sometimes a slight increase in the heart rate when the patient is standing up.

The blood pressure is normal when the patient is sitting or reclining. Sometimes, there is decreased sweating, and the symptoms are worse in hot weather.

Some Theories

It was thought for some time that postural hypotension was due to some nervous disturbance. However, Doctor Raymond Gregory of Texas does not think that it is due to this cause. He thinks that the symptoms arise because there is a decrease in the volume of blood when the patient is in the upright position.

In the past, the treatment of postural hypotension consisted of various mechanical procedures, such as the use of tight abdominal binders and leg banders, the practice of having the patient sleep with his head and shoulders raised on pillows, and the avoidance of any type of strenuous exertion on warm days. In addition, various drugs were employed which tended to contract the blood vessels.

These included such preparations as ephedrine, amphetamine, and epinephrine, particularly in oily solution, in order to give a more prolonged effect. However, Doctor Gregory found that most of these methods of treatment were not satisfactory.

New Preparation

He therefore decided to try a preparation known as desoxycorticosterone which has an effect similar to that of an extract made from a part of the adrenal glands which are located just above the kidney. In addition to the drug, he also gave ordinary salt in proper amounts, since it has been found that when the salt is administered less of the desoxycorticosterone is necessary.

In carrying out this treatment, the patient's blood pressure and weight are carefully watched by the physician to make sure that the proper dose is being employed.

In one patient treated, it was found that morning weakness was frequently present and that this could be relieved by giving an increased amount of salt. The patient has been under treatment for more than a year. The injections of desoxycorticosterone were given daily.

Later, a preparation was implanted under the skin at three-to-four-week intervals, and since that time the injections have had to be employed only twice a week.

It would appear that this form of treatment may be of definite value in the low blood pressure called postural hypotension.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

J. F.: Just how does a person know when he has an ulcer of the stomach?

Answer: Ulcer of the stomach causes such symptoms as pain from one to three hours after eating, sickness of the stomach, and sometimes vomiting. Often there is poor appetite and loss of weight. To make a definite diagnosis, in examination by a physician, including an X-ray of the stomach, may be necessary.

E. M.: Is it all right to get a permanent wave in the eighth month of pregnancy? Would it harm the baby?

Answer: There is apparently no reason why a permanent wave should not be given at the eighth month of pregnancy. It certainly would not affect the baby in any way.

Here's one of two men whose future should interest you

Yesterday, this fellow was an American fighting man.

Today, he's an ex-soldier—wondering what kind of a future he'll find in the country he fought for.

We've all agreed that his future interests us—that we have an obligation here. Loans, education, a chance for a decent job—they're not too much to give a man who had the tough end of this war.

The way to discharge your obligation to this fellow is to buy extra Bonds in the Victory Loan. And the nice part of it is that, when you do this, you're taking care of another fellow's future, too.

*Following the Victory Loan, the sale of E, F, and G U.S. Savings Bonds will continue through regular authorization agencies and through the Payroll Savings Plan.

FUR FASHION HITS

What to do with that old fur coat to make it last another few years? The two hit fur fashions designed for Rosalind Russell's latest picture, "She Wouldn't Say Yes," gives two answers. Use the old coat to make a lining for a three-quarter topper, such as the leopard-lined one Rosalind wears at left with a matching suit of honey-colored tweed. Second answer is to cut it down and make it into a jacket, similar to the mink lumber jacket with beige knitted waistband, which the star wears with a matching beige skirt at right.

Straight Talk about the

Victory Loan

You are being asked to buy War Bonds—Victory Bonds, they are now—after the War is over.

Why?

All of us know, without being told, some of the reasons.

We know that a million and a quarter Americans were killed or wounded and that we must take care of the injured men and the families of the dead.

We know that there are still millions of Americans overseas and that we must bring them home as soon as we can and maintain them till they get here.

We know that the G.I. Bill of Rights gives these men—and rightly—mustering-out pay, loans, education—a chance to make up for the years they have lost—a chance to get a start in the free and peaceful world they won for all of us.

These facts are obvious—just as obvious as the fact that it will take a lot of money to handle the problems they present.

It's also obvious, when you come to think of it, that winding up a war as big as this one is expensive business in other ways. For instance, huge sums are still required to pay for war materials which were ordered, produced, and delivered some time ago.

These reasons for buying extra Bonds in the Victory Loan are clear and easily understood.

But there is another reason for making the Victory Loan a success which, perhaps, doesn't come so easily and clearly to mind:

In these years of war, the American people have displayed mighty sound judgment.

Man by man, family by family, group by group they have come to accept Bond buying as a way to obtain financial and economic security for themselves as individuals and for their country.

Whole communities have thus changed, in the last few years, from debt-ridden, hand-to-mouth groups to communities of solid citizens with a financial reserve, a financial stake in the American system, and a newly formed habit of regular saving.

As a result of this good judgment, we have been able to hold off a disastrous inflation, finance a good part of the costs of war, and save the incredible sum of 100 billion dollars.

And as a result of these accomplishments, we, as a nation, stand ready now to win our final battle in the fight to throw off the effects of war and get this country back, as fast as we can, on a solid, prosperous, peacetime economic basis.

To win this final battle, we need only keep on doing, for a little longer, the same things we did so well during 3½ years of war. We need to keep on saving until reconversion is complete.

The next few months will tell the story. And if, during this critical period, we will only use the brains, the will power, the energy, the enterprise, the materials and resources with which we won our war, we can't fail to win the peace and make this the richest, happiest land the world has known.

Making the Victory Loan a smashing success will be a clear notice of our intentions.

* Following the Victory Loan, the sale of E, F, and G U. S. Savings Bonds will continue through regular authorized agencies and through the Payroll Savings Plan.

Five Bouts Scheduled For Memorial Building On Wednesday

Top-Flight Amateur Card Arranged For Salem's 1st Fight Bill In Eight Years

If you're one of those sport enthusiasts who likes to see the leather tossed between amateurs, there will be 17 rounds of amateur battling at the Memorial building Wednesday—Halloween night—starting at 8 p. m. Bringing to Salem in the feature bout Jackie Die and Lulu Sabotin, Promoter Scott Chisholm and Matchmaker George Bolin are also lining up an exhibition between Bolin, a former fighter, and Johnny Papke of Cleveland, known as one of the finest fight trainers in the business.

Matchmaker Bolin, who has been living in Salem for the past six months, is debating whether or not to begin a comeback in the ring. His exhibition on how to sharpen a fighter before a fight, may go a long way towards his arrival at a final decision one way or another, he says.

Bolin boxed Dan Kelley, a heavyweight, in a benefit exhibition at Erie hospital in Cleveland earlier this week, battling the much heavier fighter to a draw.

Bolin is classed now as a light-heavyweight, while he began his fighting career several years earlier in the welterweight grouping.

Chisholm and Bolin report that this five-bout card at the Memorial building is simply a "tester" to ascertain whether or not fighting will make a go in Salem.

Plan More

"We hope to have other and better matches here later, if this one is a success," Bolin said yesterday. He indicated there was a good chance of securing Chuck Lester, National AAU heavyweight champion, for a battle here.

Johnny Papke, the exhibitionist here Wednesday, is manager for the NAAU champion.

Papke, now about 45, is a former contender for the light-heavyweight championship of the world and has handled and trained some of the country's finest Golden Gloves and amateur fighters.

He fought back in the days of Harry Greb and Byron Dawney and was matched against both of these men in his time.

Papke also managed Bolin when Bolin was fighting.

Top Bout

The main bout, between Cleveland's Die and Warren's Sabotin, stacks up to be a crowd-tickler. Die is known for his terrific battles in and around the Cleveland area, while Sabotin is considered one of the most likely comers in this section of the state.

Both have an impressive string of wins behind them and will be seeking another win Wednesday. Both are welterweights.

BARONS TO START CHANGED LINE-UP

CLEVELAND, Oct. 27.—Cleveland's defending champion Barons will present a reshuffled lineup tonight as they renew their victory quest against the Providence Reds at the Arena.

Coach Bun Cook of the defending titlists, still aiming for their first triumph of the American Hockey league season, said the Barons' starting line would include Walter Atanas, Harvey Fraser and Less Cunningham.

Jack Roosevelt Robinson, above, became the first of his race to be given a contract in organized baseball when signed with the Montreal Royals of the International League, a Brooklyn Dodgers' farm club. He is pictured in the uniform of the Kansas City Monarchs, for whom he played shortstop and hit .340 in 100 games last season. Robinson, 26, formerly played backfield with the U. C. L. A. football team.

Cross Country Men To Test Abilities

(By Associated Press) MANSFIELD, Oct. 27.—The boys who run up hill and down hill and through any kind of weather went out today to settle the 1944 Ohio High School Cross Country championship. The program called for a two-mile jaunt over the Coolidge Country club golf course. There were to be approximately 150 boys in the starting field. Twenty-two of them were competing only for the individual trophies. The others were members of 15 seven-man teams.

In the team competition Cincinnati Western Hills was the defending champion but the pre-meet dopesters said Cleveland West Tech was the team to beat. The 15 teams and the 22 extra individuals qualified in district meets a week ago.

Coast League Hitters Paced By Jo-Jo White

LOS ANGELES.—Former major league outfielder Jo-Jo White of Sacramento led the Pacific Coast league in batting with a mark of .355 in the final unofficial average for 1945.

The veteran White, who—as a Detroit scout once observed—formerly "ran like a rabbit, but hit like one, too," led the loop by a wide margin with 244 base hits and tied for the lead in doubles with 46. Batting in the No. 1 or 2 spot all season, White drove in 88 runs in 177 games.

White, now 36, is not overly interested in returning to the majors. He reputedly is the highest paid player in the coast circuit.

BALDWIN-WALLACE WINS FROM SCOTS

BEREA, Oct. 27.—Scoring three times in the first period and once in the second, Ben Sprague, Freshman end, led Baldwin-Wallace to a 57 to 6 football victory over Wooster here last night. Sprague's touchdowns were registered on runs of six, 23, 48 and 10 yards on end-around plays.

The game was the last for 11 navy V-12 members of the Baldwin-Wallace team and one of them, Bob Bell of Fredericktown, O., suffered a fractured collar bone during the second period.

Seeks New Franchise

JOHNSTOWN, Pa., Oct. 27.—The Johnstown Baseball club will seek to regain its former franchise in the Middle Atlantic league at a meeting Sunday in Zanesville, O. The club left the league in 1939 after the St. Louis Browns transferred the franchise to Youngstown. O. Johnstown was a charter member of the loop at its organization in 1925.

MASSILLON-WARREN TIE, POTTERS WIN 19-0 OVER FERRY

Ponderous Potters Drop One More Unbeaten Foe In Headline Clash

BY HAROLD HARRISON Associated Press Sports Writer

Toledo Waite and Newark blasted their way a little closer yesterday toward the mythical Ohio High school football championship.

Waite, which recorded a one-touchdown victory over Toledo Libbey earlier in the season, did the job up right last night with a 27 to 0 triumph over the Cow-boys. Last year Libbey was unbeaten and untied.

Newark, like Waite, an unbeaten and untied aggregation, drubbed Cambridge by a 38 to 6 count.

Another team was knocked out of the undefeated and untied class when East Liverpool's powerful Potters hung a 19 to 0 defeat on Martin's Ferry.

Piqua kept its record clean with a 13 to 6 victory over Xenia Central.

Two of the biggest battles of the night, however, were Massillon's scoreless tie with Warren and Canton McKinley's terrific 50 to 0 drubbing of Steubenville.

Tigers Have Edge

Massillon did everything except win the game against Warren. The Tigers scored twice only to have both touchdowns called back because of offside penalties. Another time they were held on the three-yard line and the final statistics showed 11 first downs to three for Warren.

Fullback Ralph Pucci and End Harold (Red) McCoy were the big guns in Canton McKinley's victory. Pucci scored three touchdowns and McCoy two as the Bulldogs piled up a net gain of 402 yards to 81 for Steubenville.

The Big Red held McKinley even during the first period but the Bulldogs broke loose for two touchdowns in the second period and then added four in the third period and second stringers picked up two more markers in the final period.

This 'Chaser Was No Nincompoop

By NEA Service
NEW YORK — Nincompoop was a horse that did not live up to his name. An English steeplechaser, Nincompoop fell at Hurst Park some years back and appeared to be so badly injured he would have to be destroyed.

His trainer, Geoffrey Pease, turned away saying: "Come along, I can't stay to see the old fellow shot."

Whereupon Nincompoop looked up, scrambled to his feet and trotted off after trainer Pease.

Philadelphia Eagles To Meet Potent Rams

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 27.—Cleveland's powerful Rams will be at full strength for the first time this season tomorrow when they stake their National Pro league leadership against the dangerous Philadelphia Eagles.

Despite a pre-season exhibition loss to the Eagles, the undefeated Rams will be favored to roll to their fifth straight league victory on the strength of their high-powered rushing attack and brilliant Bob Waterfield's passing.

A pair of halfback speedsters, Fred Gehrk and George Koch, have recovered from injuries received in Cleveland-Chicago Bear contests, and Fullback Ralph Ruthstrom, a defensive star injured at Green Bay, has returned to active duty with the Rams.

Anti-Semitism Blamed By Ley For Nazi Defeat

NUERNBERG, Germany, Oct. 27.—Robert Ley, the German labor leader who chose suicide rather than trial before the international military court, blamed anti-Semitism for Germany's downfall in his political testament to "my German people" which authorities released today.

The testament said:

"We have forsaken God, and therefore we were forsaken by God. We put human volition in the place of His godly grace. In anti-Semitism, we violated a basic commandment of His creation."

Where a lot of people go wrong is in believing that there necessarily must be another war fought over the Soviet extension of influence.

The first thing we have to recognize is that, with the disappearance of both Germany and Italy as great powers, the extension of Russia's zone of influence is a logical corollary. It may be a corollary we dislike intensely, but it is logical. Every great power has its zone of influence, if you stop and check up.

So we don't have to go to war over zones of influence as thus far constituted. That doesn't mean that we have to take any rough stuff lying down. As Bishop Oxnham says, "but adjustments in practical affairs mean compromise." And, as Eden remarks, "we need cool, calm and understanding leadership." There are more ways of dealing with over-ambition than by using a gun.

It is with no feeling of undue optimism that your columnist repeats his theme song: "War is not inevitable." However, we have grim months ahead—as witness British Foreign Secretary Bevin's statement in the house of commons yesterday that hunger and privation in Europe may bring "a further prolific human loss more devastating than the gun or atomic bomb." That suffering is likely to add to the political difficulties. But we shall come through all right if we don't lose our heads.

Soil Conservation Specialists Help In County Program

Paul D. Herschler, of Ashland county, is now employed with the Soil Conservation service in Columbiana county.

Herschler who farmed near Ashland, has recently returned to civilian life having served with the 8th Air Force as a navigator. He completed his assigned 35 missions over Germany and returned to train personnel in Texas.

Mr. and Mrs. Herschler are residing in the McCormick apartment on W. Lincoln way, Lisbon.

This addition to the Lisbon staff of the Soil Conservation district will greatly assist in serving the numerous requests for farm conservation plans. Herschler will work with Herman Reuter who is work unit conservationist for the county.

Alex Muntjan of Maryland, soil scientist, has been assigned to work throughout 13 counties of northeastern Ohio with J. Leslie Yohn, supervisor. They are completing a soil survey in this area.

Muntjan has had experience with the Bureau of Plant Industry at Beltsville, Md., and recently was discharged from the army. Mr. and Mrs. Muntjan and daughter, Klauudia, reside on E. Chestnut st., Lisbon.

Synthetic Rubber Future Is Bright

(By Associated Press)

AKRON, Oct. 27.—Inside story of the automobile tire industry is that motorists soon may be riding on 100 per cent synthetic rubber which can be produced for as low as ten cents a pound.

This won't come about tomorrow or the next day and the 70,000,000 passenger car tires that leaders of the tire business expect to produce in 1946 and again in 1947 will vary anywhere from 50 to 85 per cent synthetic with the rest natural.

These figures are bigger than the industry has ever known. In 1941 the output reached 53,000,000 against a previous all time high in 1929 of 61,000,000.

The industry today is in a happy situation except for a labor situation involving the present six-hour day and union demands for a 30-hour week and a 30 cents an hour pay increase with 10 cents extra for night work with double pay for holidays.

The happy end of the situation is that as much as 300,000 tons of crude rubber have been found in one time Jap occupied areas in the Far East, most of it in Indo-China. The first exports into the big raw rubber areas reported that not over two per cent of the trees had been damaged and that due to a long rest they probably would produce more than ever before.

'46 MEAT SUPPLY TO EQUAL PRESENT

WASHINGTON, Oct. 27.—Consumers can expect at least as much meat in 1946 as in 1945, but farmers may receive "moderately lower" returns from sale of meat animals, the Agriculture department forecast today.

The meat supply in 1946, the department said, is likely to balance demand at the 1945 level of wholesale and retail prices.

This means, the department explained, that even if price ceilings are removed the general level of retail prices probably will be about the same as in 1945.

The expected removal of subsidy payments to slaughterers not later than June 30, 1946, may result in some decline in cattle and hog prices.

The department predicted somewhat greater pork production.

Begin Bus Service

NAVY DAY

True to Their Glorious Record Throughout Our Nation's History

The men who have served in our Navy since the nation's birth have reflected glory on themselves in many wars, and in many years of peace. This day, October 27th, has been set aside to honor them—in memory, for those who've gone to their final sleep in the deep, those who are home for good, and those still sailing the seas around the globe.

The FIRST NATIONAL BANK salutes the many men from the Salem area who served or are serving our country in the Navy. They faced undaunted all the strength of powerful enemies and successfully piloted this nation to Victory. We have every reason to be proud of our great ships, proud of our great naval air force, proud of every man wearing our navy's uniform.
